FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1866.

The Metropolitan Police Law, The Commissioners at Memphis Means. Beaumont, Burdett, and Richards, have gone to work making preparations to take charge of the Police Department of that city. Mr. Beaumont will act as President of the Board, and will also preside in the Recorder's Court clause. It would be preferable, if Conas Police Magistrate. But though the decisions of a Congress might possibly be suggested by justice, its execution of them would infullibly be dictated by policy, and we should probably not have long to wait before we witnessed as gross an abuse of the power of carrying out the general decree as that which Austria and Prussia exhibited when they undertook to act as the agents of the Germanic Confederation in the case of Denmark. A

Congress is often an excellent means of giving effect to rights which have beed previously established by an appeal to arms. It can reduce into form and give permanence to the well-ascertained results of victory and defeat. But when countries carry their preparations for war to such lengths as Prussia, Austria and Italy have now done, they must look for the adjustment of their rights and the settlement of their quarrel to an agency more efficient than that of an European Congress, They can, if they please, draw back from the extreme pretensions they hav , put forward and assume again the tone of moderation they have discardsubmit her right to Venetia to an Eu- Blair whilst speaking: ropean Congress, or that Italy, after having given Garibaldi a command and called on the Revolutionary Party to a conclave of diplomatists. From the Daily Mississispian. Certain Cure for Snake Bites. Among the many evils which have multiplied in our afflicted country, there are some, fortunately, which may be remedied. Among our scourges are nultitudes of thieves and robbers, who ensume our substance. Lawless men and beasts of prey are multiplying fearully, and the "oldest inhabitants" of our devastated State have never seen the "like of snakes" of all sorts upon the sedge lands, which in former and happier days were cultivated fields and they never before, perhaps, have seen such grassy, weedy and snakey corn and cotton as the little that our white and black freedmen are attempt ing to cultivate in patches, few and far between, in our portion of the sunny South. As it is very dangerous for them under present circumstances to portant one, as modified by them, is as attempt to get about in the grass, and as they are frequently snake bitten in doing so, and as skillful physicians are not always at hand to apply remedies promptly, and besides this, as the most of them are not well able to pay doc tors' bills-the writer of this hopes he will do them a favor by giving them a very cheap and certain remedy, which any druggist can prepare for them for six bits, and which they can use without the aid of a surgeon. I am not the discoverer of the reme dy, but have used it repeatedly, and with perfect success, for the last ten years, in curing snake and spider bites, and the stings of wasps, bees and other insects. I usually carry it with me in keep a vial of it always in my house, where my family can use it immedistung by wasps, bees and yellow jackets in fruit season.
